THE DIRECTORATE OF LIBRARY SERVICES

USER GUIDE AND REGULATIONS

JULY, 2016

(<http://kohasvr.muhas.ac.tz/>). A catalogue card is a brief description of an information item. The Library has already entered all bibliographic records into the library integrated management system, namely KOHA database. The Library catalogues are of two types, author catalogues and subject catalogues. The author catalogues (file) lists books, pamphlets and other documents alphabetically according to author's surnames. In the case where the book has no personal authorship, the authorship will be attributed to title, society, body or institution.

On the other hand, subject catalogues are also used to locate materials in the library. A subject catalogue is an alphabetically arranged file according to the name of the subject and it shows what the library has on a particular subject, and what other documents exist on the subjects.

6. LOANS

A book borrowed from the library must be returned on or before the last date shown on the date label of the book. In case where the returned book is still in need by the same reader, the book can be re-issued (renewed). When a reader returns a book to the Issue Desk, his/her ticket will be returned to him. The reader must make sure that he/she gets back a ticket after returning any library book. Any person found holding books without having them properly issued will be reported to the University Authorities and shall be liable for disciplinary action, including loss of library privileges.

7. COLLECTIONS

7.1 General collection

The general collection consists of information materials in various medical and health fields. Information materials in this section can be borrowed for home reading and be returned after 2 weeks.
